NORTHWESTERN COLLEGE

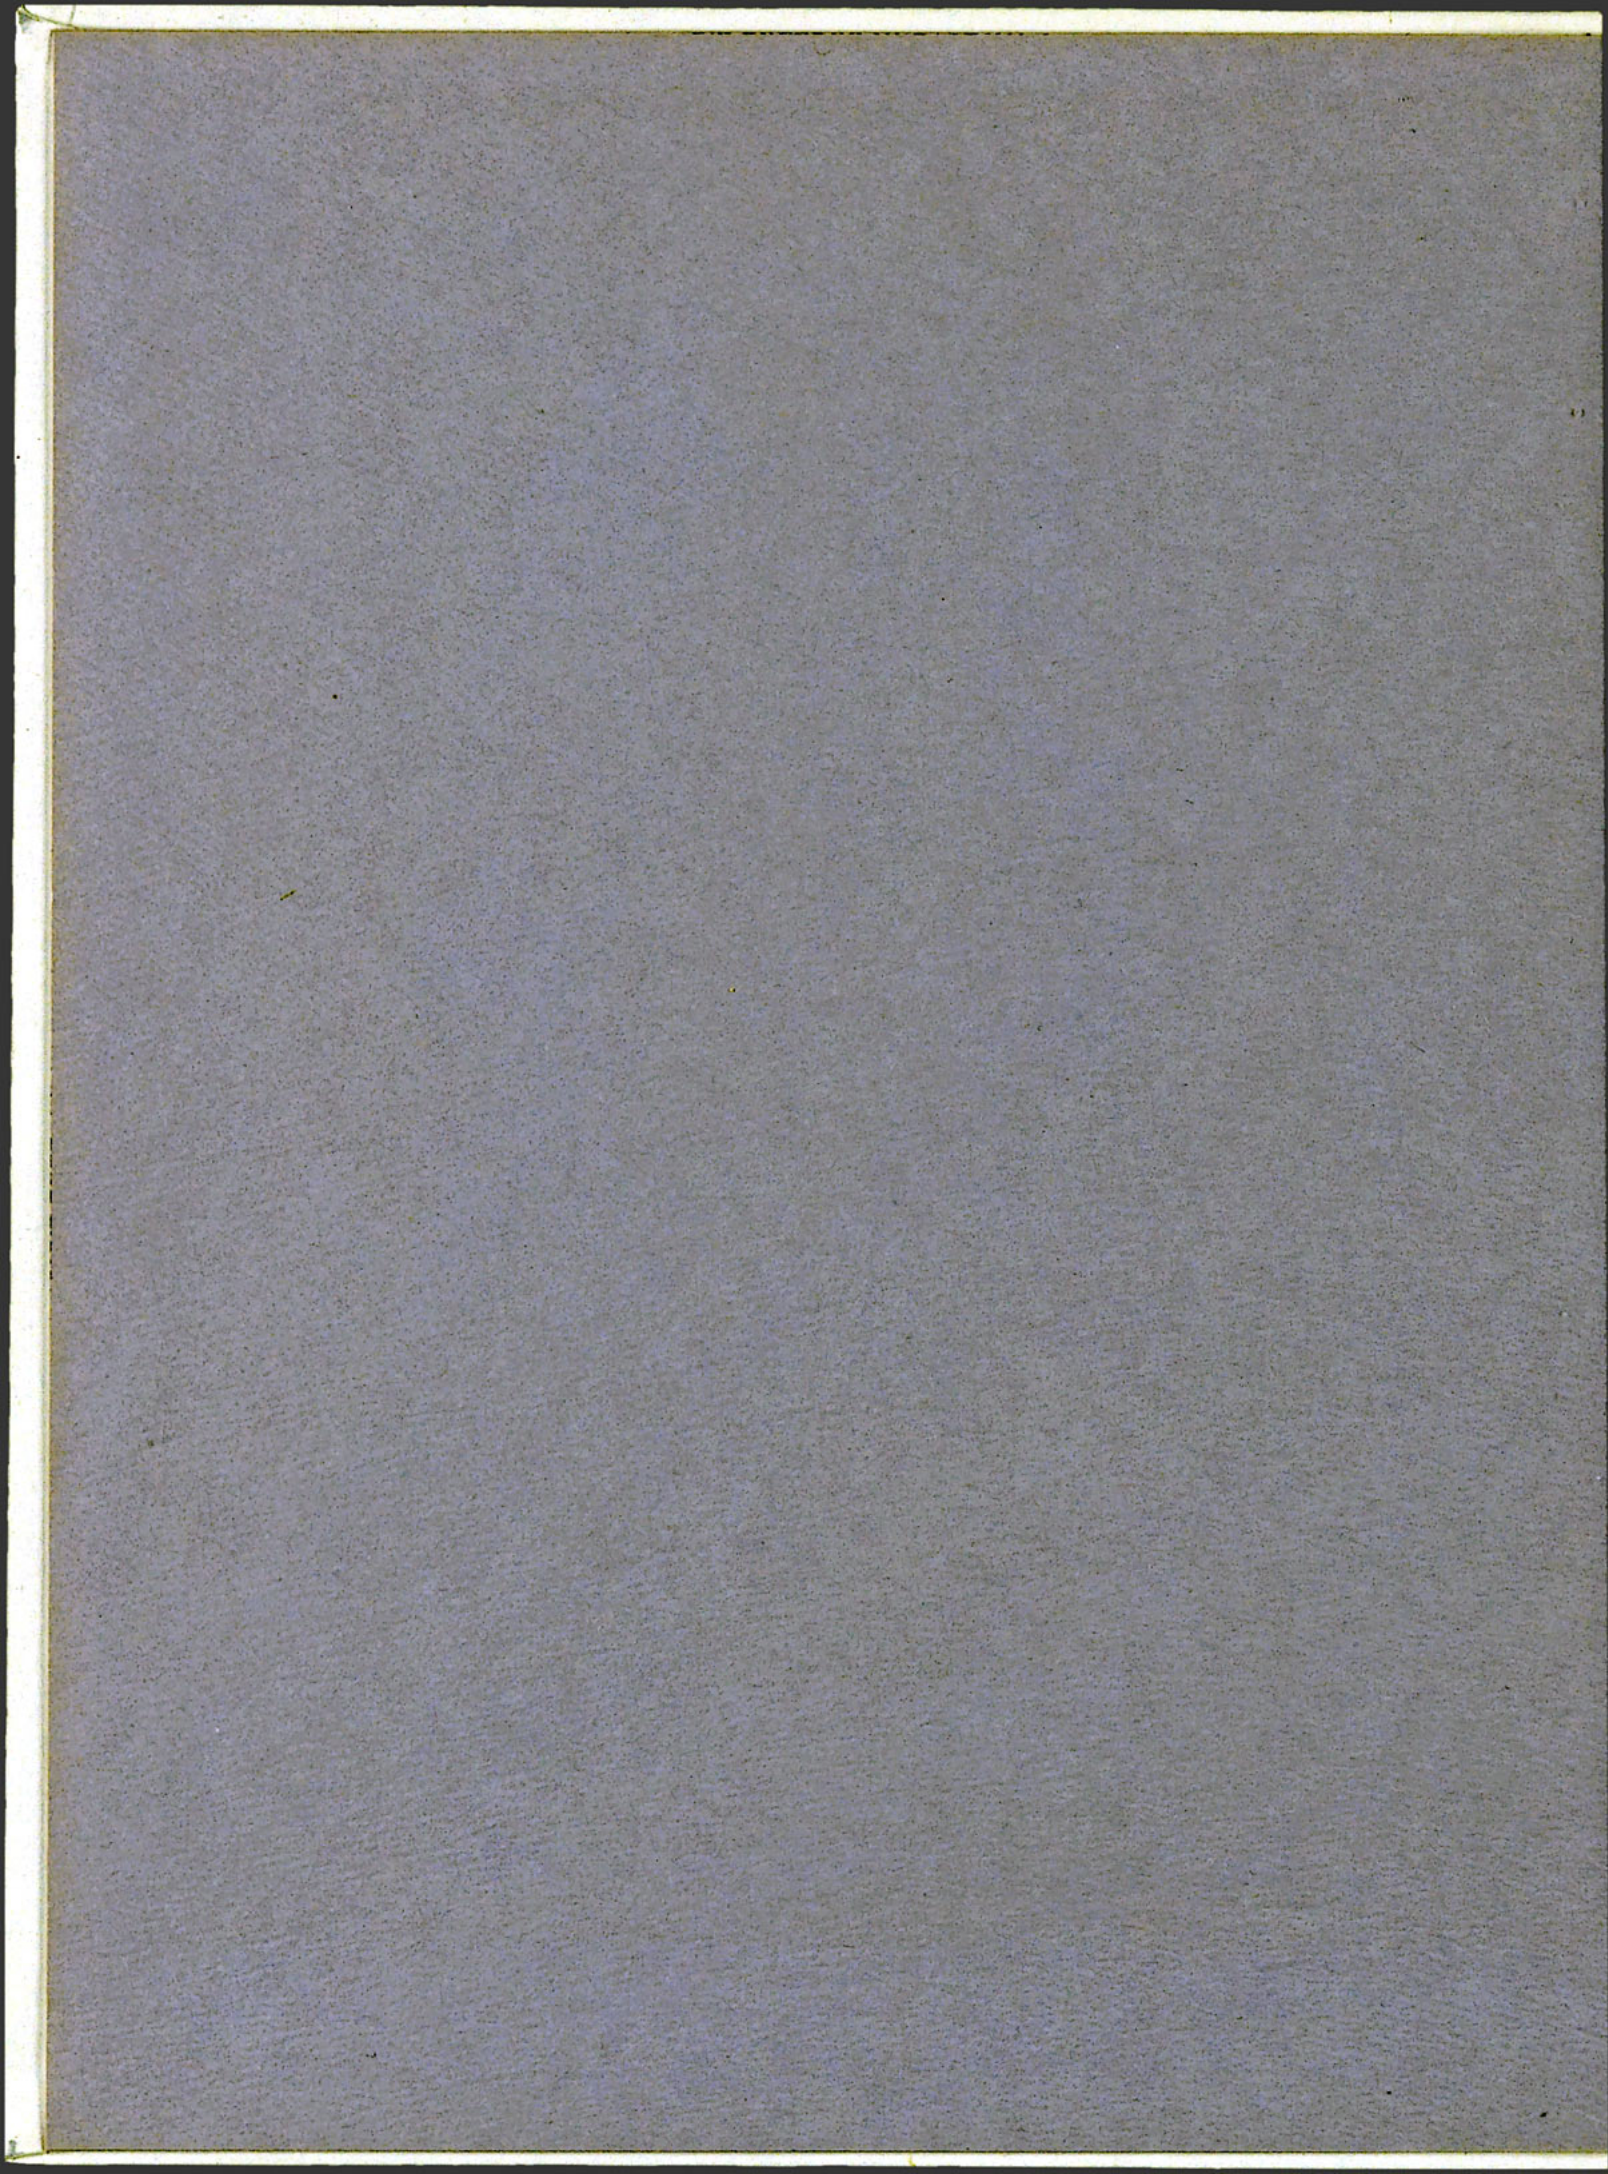

*"By their fruits
you will know them..."*

1984 NORTHWESTERN COLLEGE SCROLL

Our theme this year is "By their fruit you will recognize them." Used frequently in the Bible, the vineyard provides an apt example of productive spiritual growth.

You are a branch of the true vine. Therefore, your life finds its source in Him. Your fruit, the evidence of that life within you, comes from Him, also.

Bear fruit, for when people taste of it they will praise the owner of the vineyard.

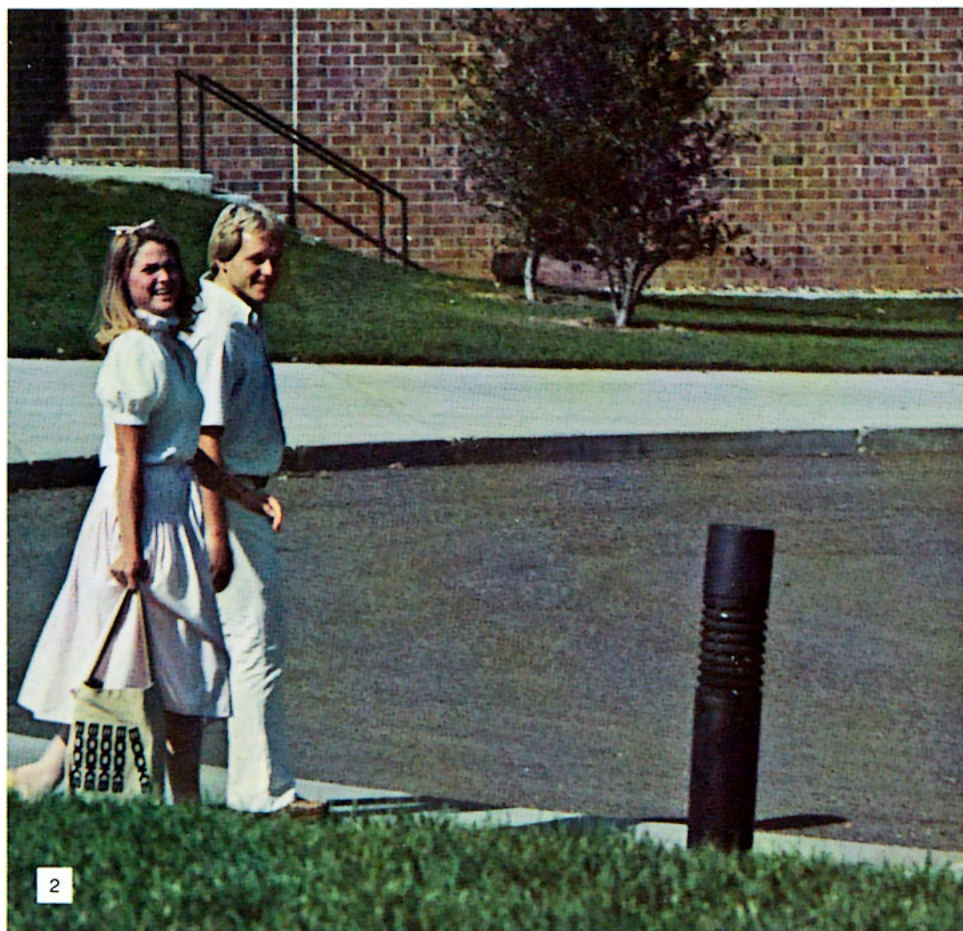

1. After polishing off a meal David Tharp eyes someone across the cafeteria as Tom Symens leans back in a rickety chair. 2. Sara Johnson, Kathy Petersen, Judy Hoven and Nancy Terrill finish off another typing class. 3. As Dean Gunberg listens, John DuBall and Rollie Mossberg discuss the collegiate life. 4. Friday nights at Saints-Rosedale give Judy Jankowski and Jodi Lundquist the opportunity for both exercise and socializing. 5. Convinced that working in food service isn't all that bad, Kim Leavitt and Rita Carter keep smiles on their faces. 6. Down by the Eagle's Nest, Denise Kuehne and Heidi Johnson relax with a can of pop.

1. Linda Stanchfield mixes homework with pleasure on a sunny September day. 2. Machel Monster and Mark Ericksen smile as they hurry off to class. 3. "You did not choose Me, but I chose you, and appointed you, that you should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should remain, that whatever you ask of the Father in My name, He may give it to you."

John 15:16

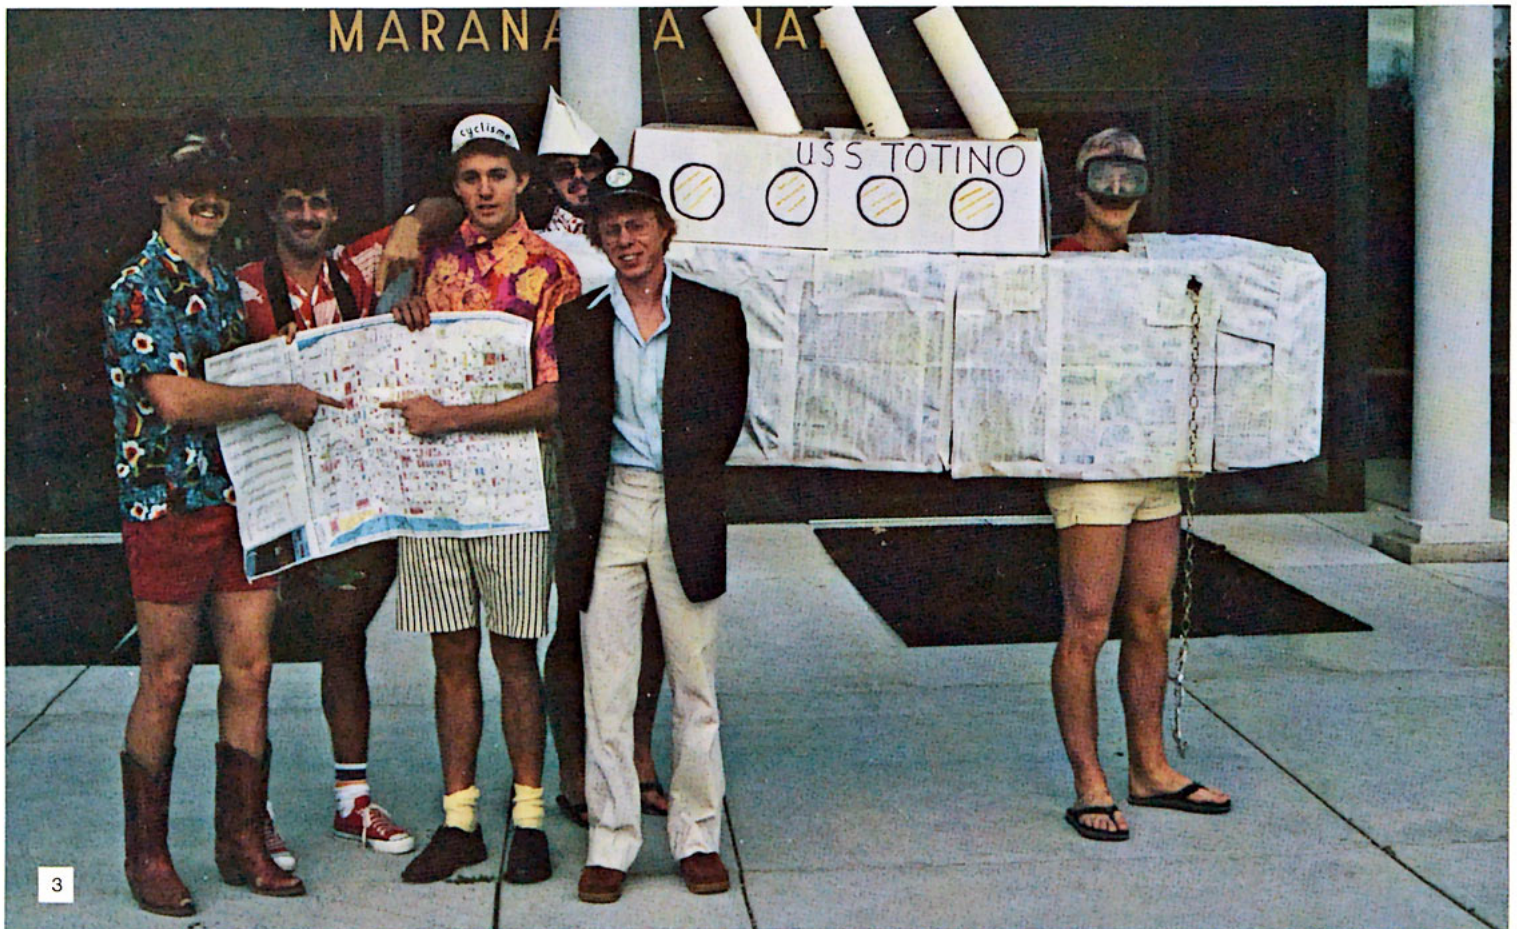

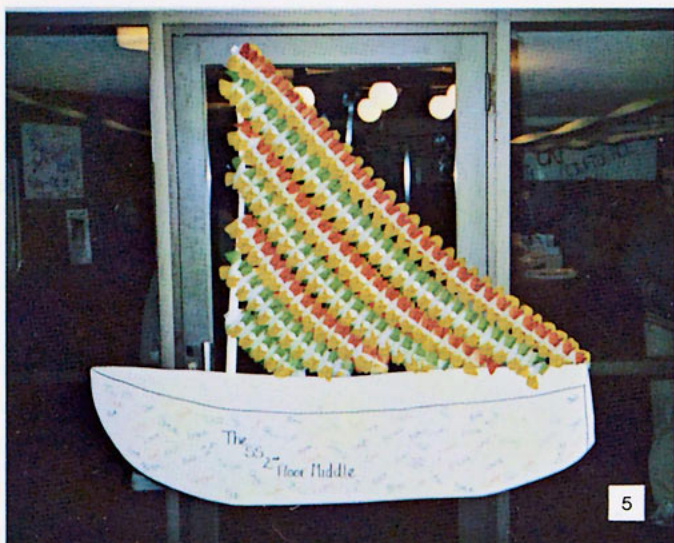

"I am the true vine, and My Father is the vinedresser. Every branch in Me that does not bear fruit, He prunes it, that it may bear more fruit."
John 15:1-2

1. Students find Maranatha Hall a convenient place to relax and visit with friends between classes. 2. SPECIAL EVENTS

We Gather Together

Chapel allows us the challenge to seek and respond to our individual needs and lives as children of God. Enhancing our chapel services are a variety of inspirational programs delivered by missionaries, pastors, professors, faculty, and students as well as special concerts.

A series of messages presented by Dave Busby highlighted Spiritual Emphasis Week. Significant challenges were left in the hearts of all. Are we willing to be radically committed to God? Are we willing to make a difference and to be open to God with a willing heart?

1. Mr. Gunberg gives us a warning about the path through the courtyard! 2. Kathy Peterson and Steve Tschetter taking offering. 3. President Bernsten makes a few comments and introduces our speaker Lorelee Spurlock.

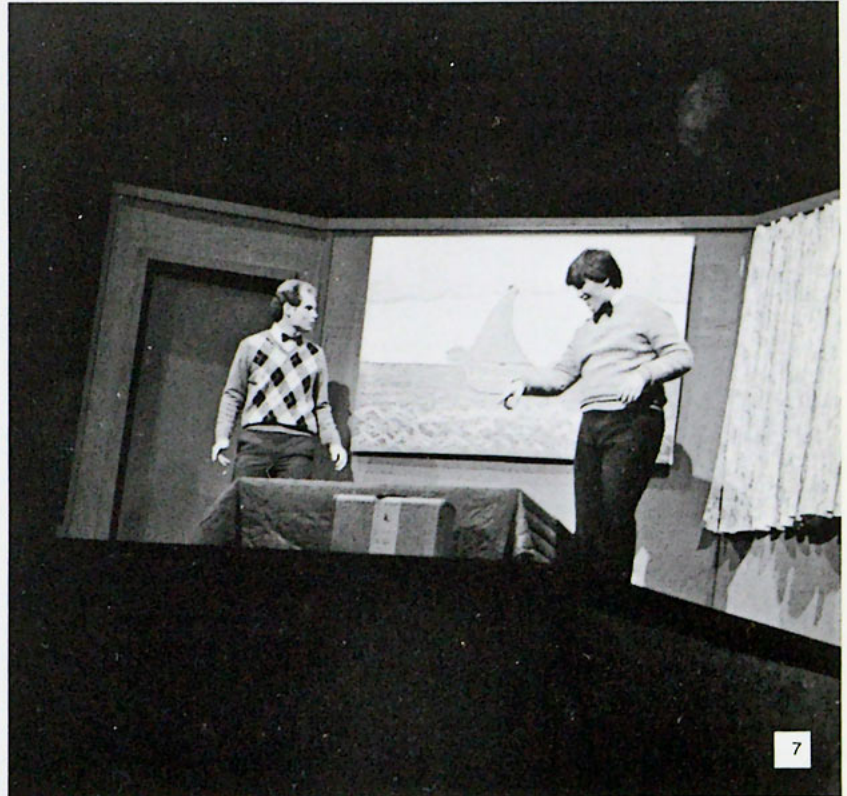

Northwestern Christens the Dawn Treader

Oct. 28-Nov. 5 marked an exciting event for the Drama Department. It was the premiere of an original adaptation of C.S. Lewis' Voyage of the Dawn Treader from the Chronicles of Narnia series.

Wayne Olson (playwright), Kevin Norberg (composer), and Carol Thomas (director) combined their talents along with the cast of forty members to make it a successful voyage.

The musical is an adult fairytale depicting three children, Eustace (Brian Dobson), Lucy (Denita Johnson), and Edmund (Tim Reed) on a fantasy adventure in the Narnian seas. Subdued by dilemmas, they overcome them with the help of Aslan, the lion ruler.

4. Edmund (Tim Reed), Lucy (Denita Johnson), and Caspian (Craig King) meet the Slave Traders (Jay Perske, Lance Witt, Dalen Johnson, and Scott Peterson) on Fellowmoore Island. 5. The passengers and crew of the Dawn Treader gaze at the valiant little mouse, Reepicheep (Pam Sentman). 6. "So this is what girls have to go through!" says Dale Helm as he prepares his makeup. 7. Eustace (Brian Dobson) makes fun of Edmund's (Tim Reed) "ancient" suitcase!

Eagles Sail To Victory

Homecoming '83 is remembered as an exciting time when the alumni, students, and faculty united in pleasure of celebration. "Sail On", the Homecoming theme, was expressed by "dress like you're on a cruise" day and by the lounge displays in the residences.

Thursday night (Oct. 13) found Karin Heng receiving the honor of Miss Northwestern. Friday, the formal banquet was held followed by the Cruse Family concert.

Although the weather was dismal on Saturday, the Homecoming spirit was not dampened as fans cheered the football and soccer teams to victories.

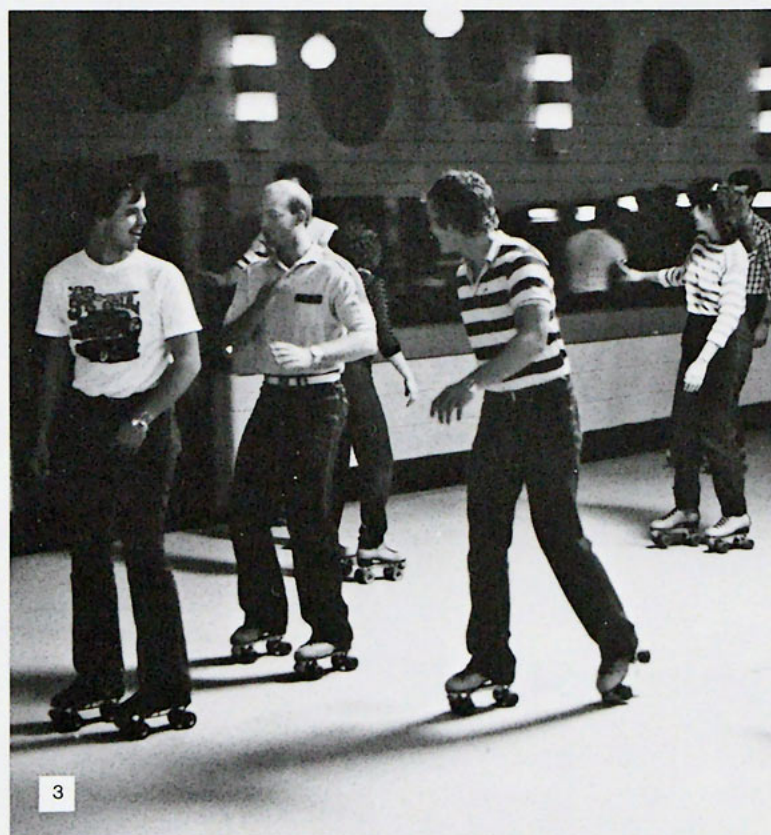

1. Cruse Family sails through their concert in Maranatha. 2. Dancing at Northwestern?! Of course not. Kayleen Wetzel and Gary Anderson are just giving ideas to students for 50's Day. 3. Cynthia Dahl waits for the Cruse Family concert to begin. 4. Barb Wall models the latest for the Tiajuana tourist on Cruise Day. 5. Darcee Ledo and Lisa Benhammer dine at the Homecoming banquet. 6. Former Miss Northwestern, Sheila Kremer Miller, passes her title on to Karin Heng.

Sit Back And Relax (?)

Weekends at Northwestern provided a time for students to relax, enjoy entertainment, and catch up on homework. The wide variety of activities provided included movies, sports, banquets, and concerts, as well as rollerskating at Saints-Rosedale every other Friday night.

Ending the weekend with a time of unity and worship, students met on Sunday evenings for Sing 'n Share.

1. Roxy Korporeal, Julie Elisberry, Maureen Middleton, Misha Hunke, Margret Stratton, Judy Anderson, and Jennifer Juntunen discuss prayer requests at Sing 'n Share. 2. Teens Check Out NWC

The 1984 Youth Conference was a big success, with over 220 high school students attending. The conference, held on the weekend of January 26-28, featured sessions with Toby Travis on the topic of dating. Entertainment was also provided with a concert by Brown Bannister, followed by an ice cream social.

In order to experience college life first-hand, the prospective students roomed in the campus residences and attended classes.

1. The Youth Conference students fit right in with the college students at dinnertime. 2. Paige McConkey, Nancy Heglund, and Cindy Gray minister at the Youth Conference brunch. 3. Brown Bannister and his band share a two-and-a-half hour concert on Friday evening.

Matt Directs

"Peg O' My Heart," a J. Hartley Manner play centered around a rich family and a poor girl (Peg), was directed by Matt Hallstein. Pam Sentman played the title role along with co-stars Dave Roby, Dale Helm, Vicki Pavlis, Kay Jentoft, Mike Foth, and Sonya Gilbertson. The play was performed on Feb. 16 & 18 in the Gold Room.

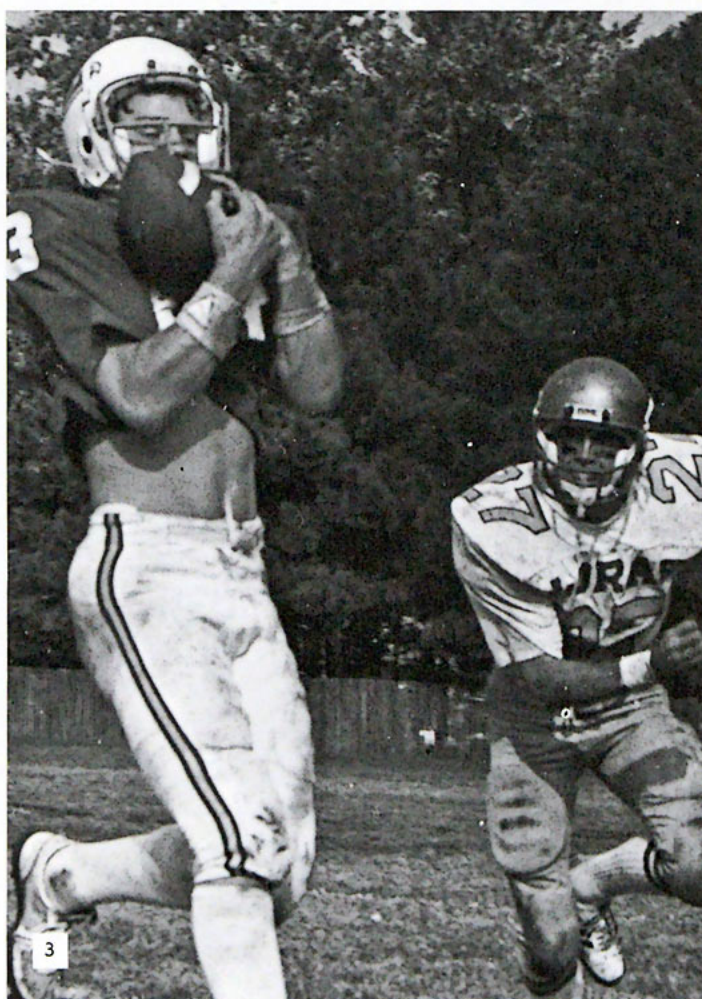

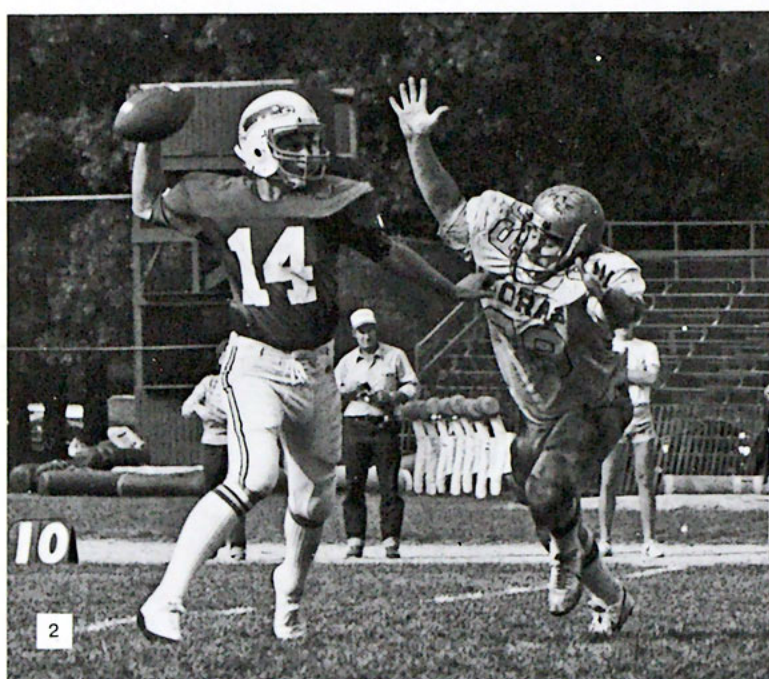

1. Ms. Tillie (Sonya Gilbertson) listens as Peg (Pam Sentman) expresses her desires to go home. 2. Kay Jentoft and Dale Helm: the epitomy of snobbery. 3. Eagles Taste Bitter End

The 1983 football season proved to be outstanding, despite all of the injuries the team had to overcome. Leading the conference with a 4-2 record, the Eagles had hopes of going to the Midwest Bowl. They fell short of their goal in the final weeks of their season, losing by only one point to Concordia and Mt. Senario.

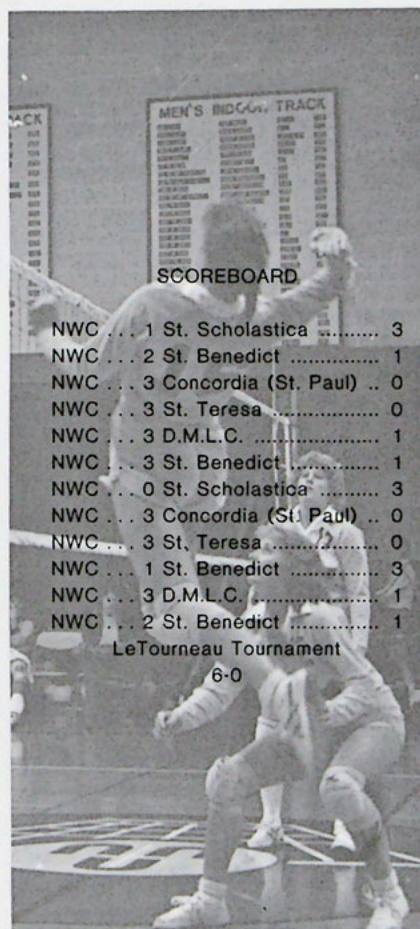

The eight seniors inspired a strong spiritual emphasis on the team, with Dave Gustafson, Jean Almquist and Brian Taubert leading their team as tri-captains.

Jim Spock stated, "The team's good attitude brought strong unity to the team."

1. Nancy Roszhart delivers a powerful spike, while Sherri Kremer and Jody Eberspacher anticipate their next move. 2. Determined to keep the ball on the other side of the net, Mimi Doran and Karlene Johnson leap with outstretched arms. 3. You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet

It was an exciting season for the Women's Volleyball team as they completed their best season ever, finishing with a 29-11 record, a District Championship, and a berth in the National Christian College Athletic Association National Tournament.

The team was composed of only one junior, the remainder of the team being freshmen and sophomores — a promise of continued success in the future. A highlight of the season was a trip to Texas, which resulted in a 6-0 championship at the LeTourneau Invitational tournament.

Young Team Goes Places

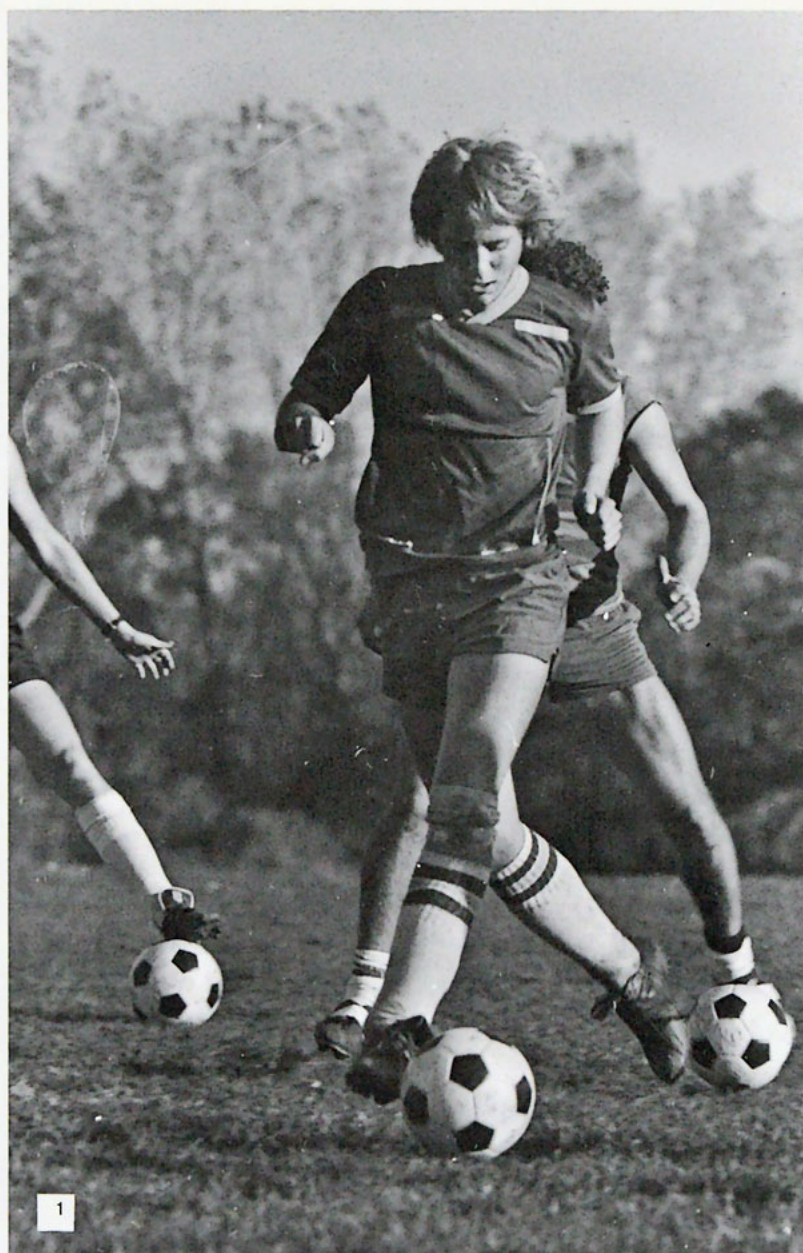

The Eagles had a rough start; however, as the season progressed, the team improved and gained more confidence in themselves. They ended the season with an 8-7-1 record.

The unity of the team was a major ingredient to their success. Internal conflicts were few while the support and oneness were tremendous.

Mike Cameron attributed much of their success to Coach Gunderson stating that he gave them "a new and different perspective of the game." He taught them how to prepare psychologically for the game; he gave them a vision to strive for, and he demonstrated the techniques.

The team was young this year with 50 percent rookies. The team developed well together and Coach Gunderson sees a massive potential for next year.

The Eagles had a vision to go places and they did. Their pregame motto was "EDO THA GINEI O TAFOS SAS" (this place is going to be your grave).

1. Freeman Moser III and Eddie Madsen diligently practice. The extra arm and leg belong to Paul Dickinson. 2. Tim Lemmens concentrates on stealing the ball as Jeff Stern takes out number ten. 3. Winning with Fun and Fellowship

Among other colleges our size, the men's cross country team was undefeated taking the conference championship for the ninth straight year. Top runner this year was Gary Brink who placed first in every meet.

This year was a time of rebuilding with only two returning members. Coach Farra said, "our prime objective is not to win, but what we aim for is fun and fellowship, and a chance to compete against ourselves." The team went on to National competition in Cedarville, Ohio.

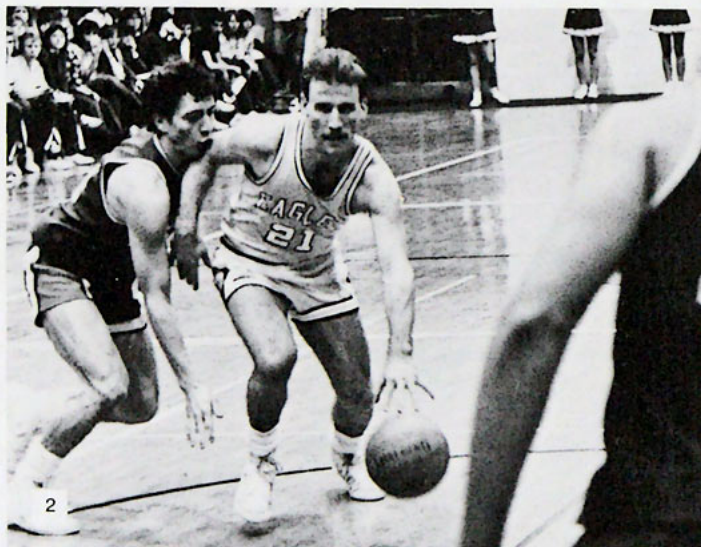

1. Lyle Besemer guts out the long stretch. 2. Thomas Conklin rounds the bend with an even stride. 3. Eugene Nordin pours on the energy for the last leg of the race. 4. Sandwiched between two opponents, Carol Hagel treks across the grassy course. 5. A step ahead of a competitor Joy Olson crosses the bridge to the island chapel. 6. With the thrill of victory showing on their faces, Kay Burkhart, Carol Hagel, Lois Reseland, Carolyn Belanger and Joy Olson compose the 1983 Women's Cross Country team.

Full Force

For the second year of women's cross country at Northwestern this is the first year they've had a full team. Kae Burkhart finished fourth in the conference meet breaking school records for every course she ran. Although they lacked a full team due to injuries, they went on to National competition.

Taking Flight

Attempting to fill the jerseys of a long dynasty of excellent athletes was the task awaiting a young Eagles basketball team. With four returning players, the team stumbled into the season on rocky ground.

Led by co-captains, Jeff Habich and Joel Holm, the team finally ended their losing average of 2 wins and 13 losses with a respectable win over a much anticipated game with Moody Bible Institute. With that much needed spark of victory in their eyes, they proceeded into their first conference games of the season. They have soothed their wounds and taken flight.

Sorenson Leaves Legacy

Women's basketball had a winning season in 1984. They had an action-packed season defeating teams which they had been unable to beat in previous years. The Senior captains Sue Johnson, Dena Sorenson, and Barb Wall led the team in spirit and attitude on and off the court. Dena Sorenson set several records in her four-season career with 42 points in one game 18 rebounds in one game, and a total of over 1,600 career points.

New and Improved Team

Good new players and a stronger spiritual attitude added to the continuity of the NWC team this season. According to team members, the successful 6-4 season was part of an improved program which included more interest in fan participation, improvements on individual skills, and widening of team goals.

Team member Tony Deach added that "NW hockey is improving with age and hopefully, someday will be in inter-collegiate competition."

Winning On And Off the Mat

The 1984 grapplers started out slow but gained momentum through the season with the capturing of the Maranatha tournament laurels for the second year in a row highlighting the season.

Third year team member, Brad Iverson, commented that "there have been many times this year when as individuals we have been down but our unity as brothers in Christ has enabled us to persevere through the end of the season and has made us come out winners for school and God."

Active Participation Increases Numbers

Strong participation in co-curricular activities on the part of students over the last few years has increased the popularity of the intramural program.

The key to this factor was expressed by one student as being able to have fun while playing sports without worrying about making mistakes and everyone turning on you.

But it's not all in fun, for with each sport, each quarter, a trophy is awarded to every player of the winning team. For many, that's just as rewarding as any extra-curricular event honor. After all a trophy is a trophy.

ORGANIZATIONS

New Format

With a new idea, the Eagle staff, headed by editors Brian Tanning, Greg Peterson, and Martin Brown, decided to reduce the usual format of the newspaper from eight pages to four. Previously the paper came out three times a quarter due to lengthy layouts. It usually contained what students referred to as "ancient" news taking away from the "news" part of the paper.

The paper now is produced seven times a quarter making the news more current. There have been some drawbacks as the increase requires a greater number of student articles.

On the Air

W.V.O.E. (Voice of the Eagle) is provided as a student radio station extending to the limits of Northwestern campus residences. Programming is directed to students as an alternative Christian radio station offering a variety of Christian music, news, and special features to enhance its unique character and give greater listening pleasure.

W.V.O.E., under the management of Jeff Creed, builds upon an attitude of professionalism. Opportunities in radio announcing, newswriting, music selection and preparation sales and management prepare and train students with "on hand" experience.

1. Carlton Anderson plays what the listeners request. 2. Jeff Creed, Matt Schulenberg, and Jeff Wipf rushing to get the news out. 3. W.V.O.E. Staff: Seated: Bethany Hansen. Standing: Jennifer Carlson, Annette Linder, Jeff Creed, Richard Long and Carlton Anderson.

Deadlines!

The 1984 Scroll staff met Thursday nights, working to meet deadlines. Responsibilities of cropping, writing, typing and captioning were toiled over and completed. The 19 members enjoyed a few breaks such as an open house at Mr. Jerry Bielby's house. This year's theme was Matthew 7:16. "By their fruits you will know them."

Acts 1:8

To have a mission in life is to work towards a purpose or a goal. The mission of the Student Missionary Fellowship was to encourage, direct, and provide for those whose goal was to serve Christ in mission work. Each Friday in chapel the opportunity was given for students to share through an offering. The money was used to support students on summer missions projects.

The fellowship met for times of sharing experiences, answering questions about missions, and praying for the worldwide need for workers. SMF sponsored Missions Emphasis Week and the Student Missionary Dedication service.

Exalting Him As Lord

President Cliff Olson and Vice President Kerry Stastny provided the leadership within the Student Association. "Exalting Him as Lord" was the challenging theme selected for the student body to apply in the various areas of spiritual life, social life, academic environment and in the overall attitude and behavior evident within Northwestern.

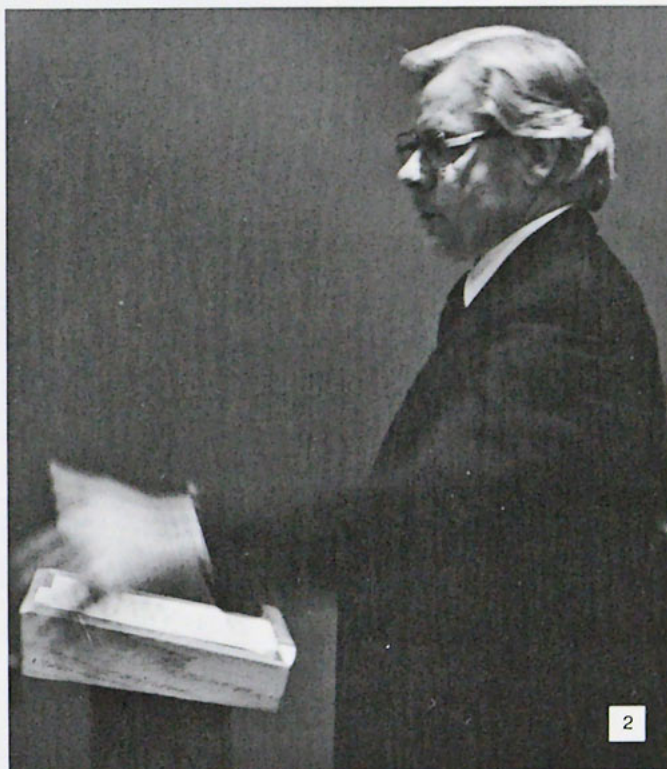

The NWSA encouraged student involvement by providing activities such as concerts by Brown Bannister and the Cruse Family, book swaps, the Youth Conference, and by bringing movies like "The Man From Snowy River" and "The Chosen." They also planned several delicious ice cream socials.

Service in Song

Sophomore Tim Walsh reflecting on what Male Chorus meant to him stated, "the best thing about Male Chorus is how many opportunities are given to serve God. Not only in singing, but also in preaching and teaching which makes this outreach extra special.

Male Chorus has 21 members which sing forth in four part harmony. Kyle Wilson directs the group with the help of April Fedde and Lisa Goris on the piano. Male Chorus ministers in churches and at school on special occasions.

Repertoire Expanded

Led in a new approach by Director Richard Edstrom, the 53-voice choir learned and performed more music than in previous years. Because of a wider range in voices, the choir's repertoire was expanded to include songs which utilized the low basses.

In March, they performed with Stephen Nielson and Ovid Young in a regional premiere of "Song of Thanksgiving." The choir also sang a variety of numbers for the M.M.E.A. Mid-Winter In-Service Clinic.

1. Along with the school's other major performing groups, the College Choir celebrates the Christmas Festival, singing a medley of carols. 2. First row: S. Welch, R. Silrum, T. Foster, L. Their presentations include a combination of music, personal testimonies, and sharing from Scripture. Along with the ensemble groups of Abundant Joy, A Closer Look, and the New Life Quartet, Toby Travis, an individual performer, blends word, music, and magic in ministry with his wife, Karen.

Whew! It's done!

As I look back at all the carbon copies of pages long sent in and of deadlines missed; I think to myself — NEVER AGAIN! Seriously, it was a priveledge for me to serve as editor of the 1984 Scroll. Although many times I wanted to give up, the Lord gave me strength to persevere.

I would like to thank my dedicated corps of workers this year. Sharon Caret served as assistant editor and cropper-in-chief. She helped keep things ethical and burned the midnight oil along with me in order to complete the book. Shelia Shipler, Barb Hoekman, and Sheila Peterson also put many hours in drawing layouts, redrawing layouts, and suffering through the horrifying task of copy writing. Thanks for coming to my rescue.

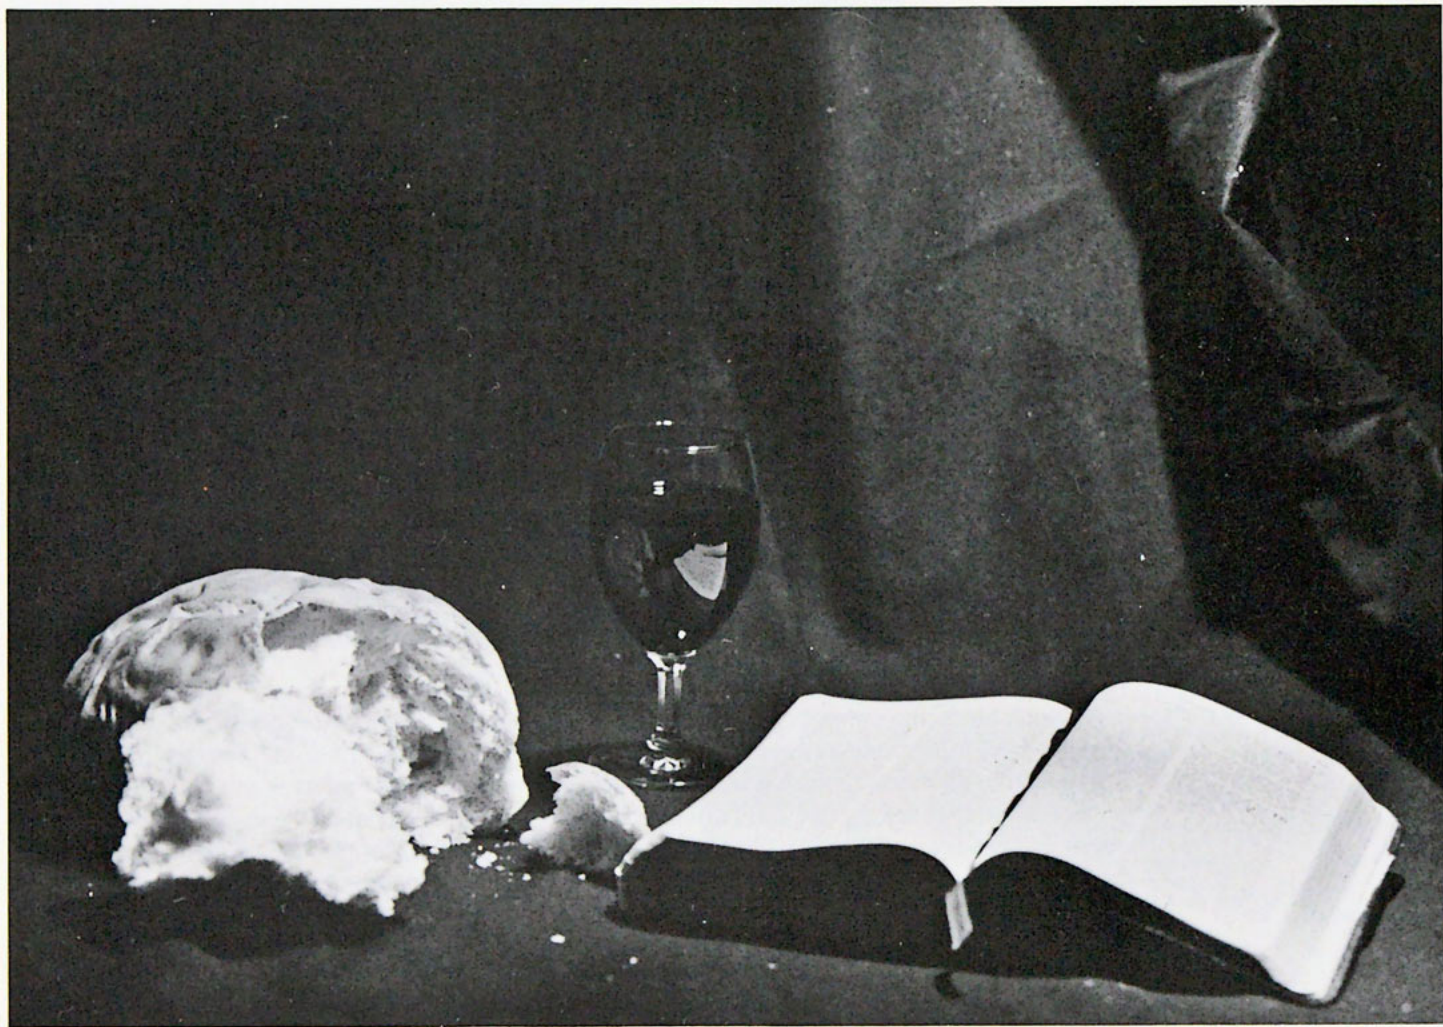

Also deserving of praise are other staff members Janice Swenson, Dawn Lincoln, Julie Gorham, Kim Leavitt, Nancy Bast, Dana Habich, Junie Estridge, Monica Groves, Denise Carlson, Gina Johnson, Dawn Johanson, Cathy Blood, and Dori Stark. Thanks again!

Oh yes! My photographers! I would like to apologize to you for the demands and pressure I put on you two. Dennis Jenkins and Todd Ericson came through in the end. Thanks guys.

Others that helped us with the production and deserving of thanks are Nancy Post and Joan Schroeder for the countless lists and help with identification. A special thanks to the people of the W. Institute for the unique pictures used in the division pages.

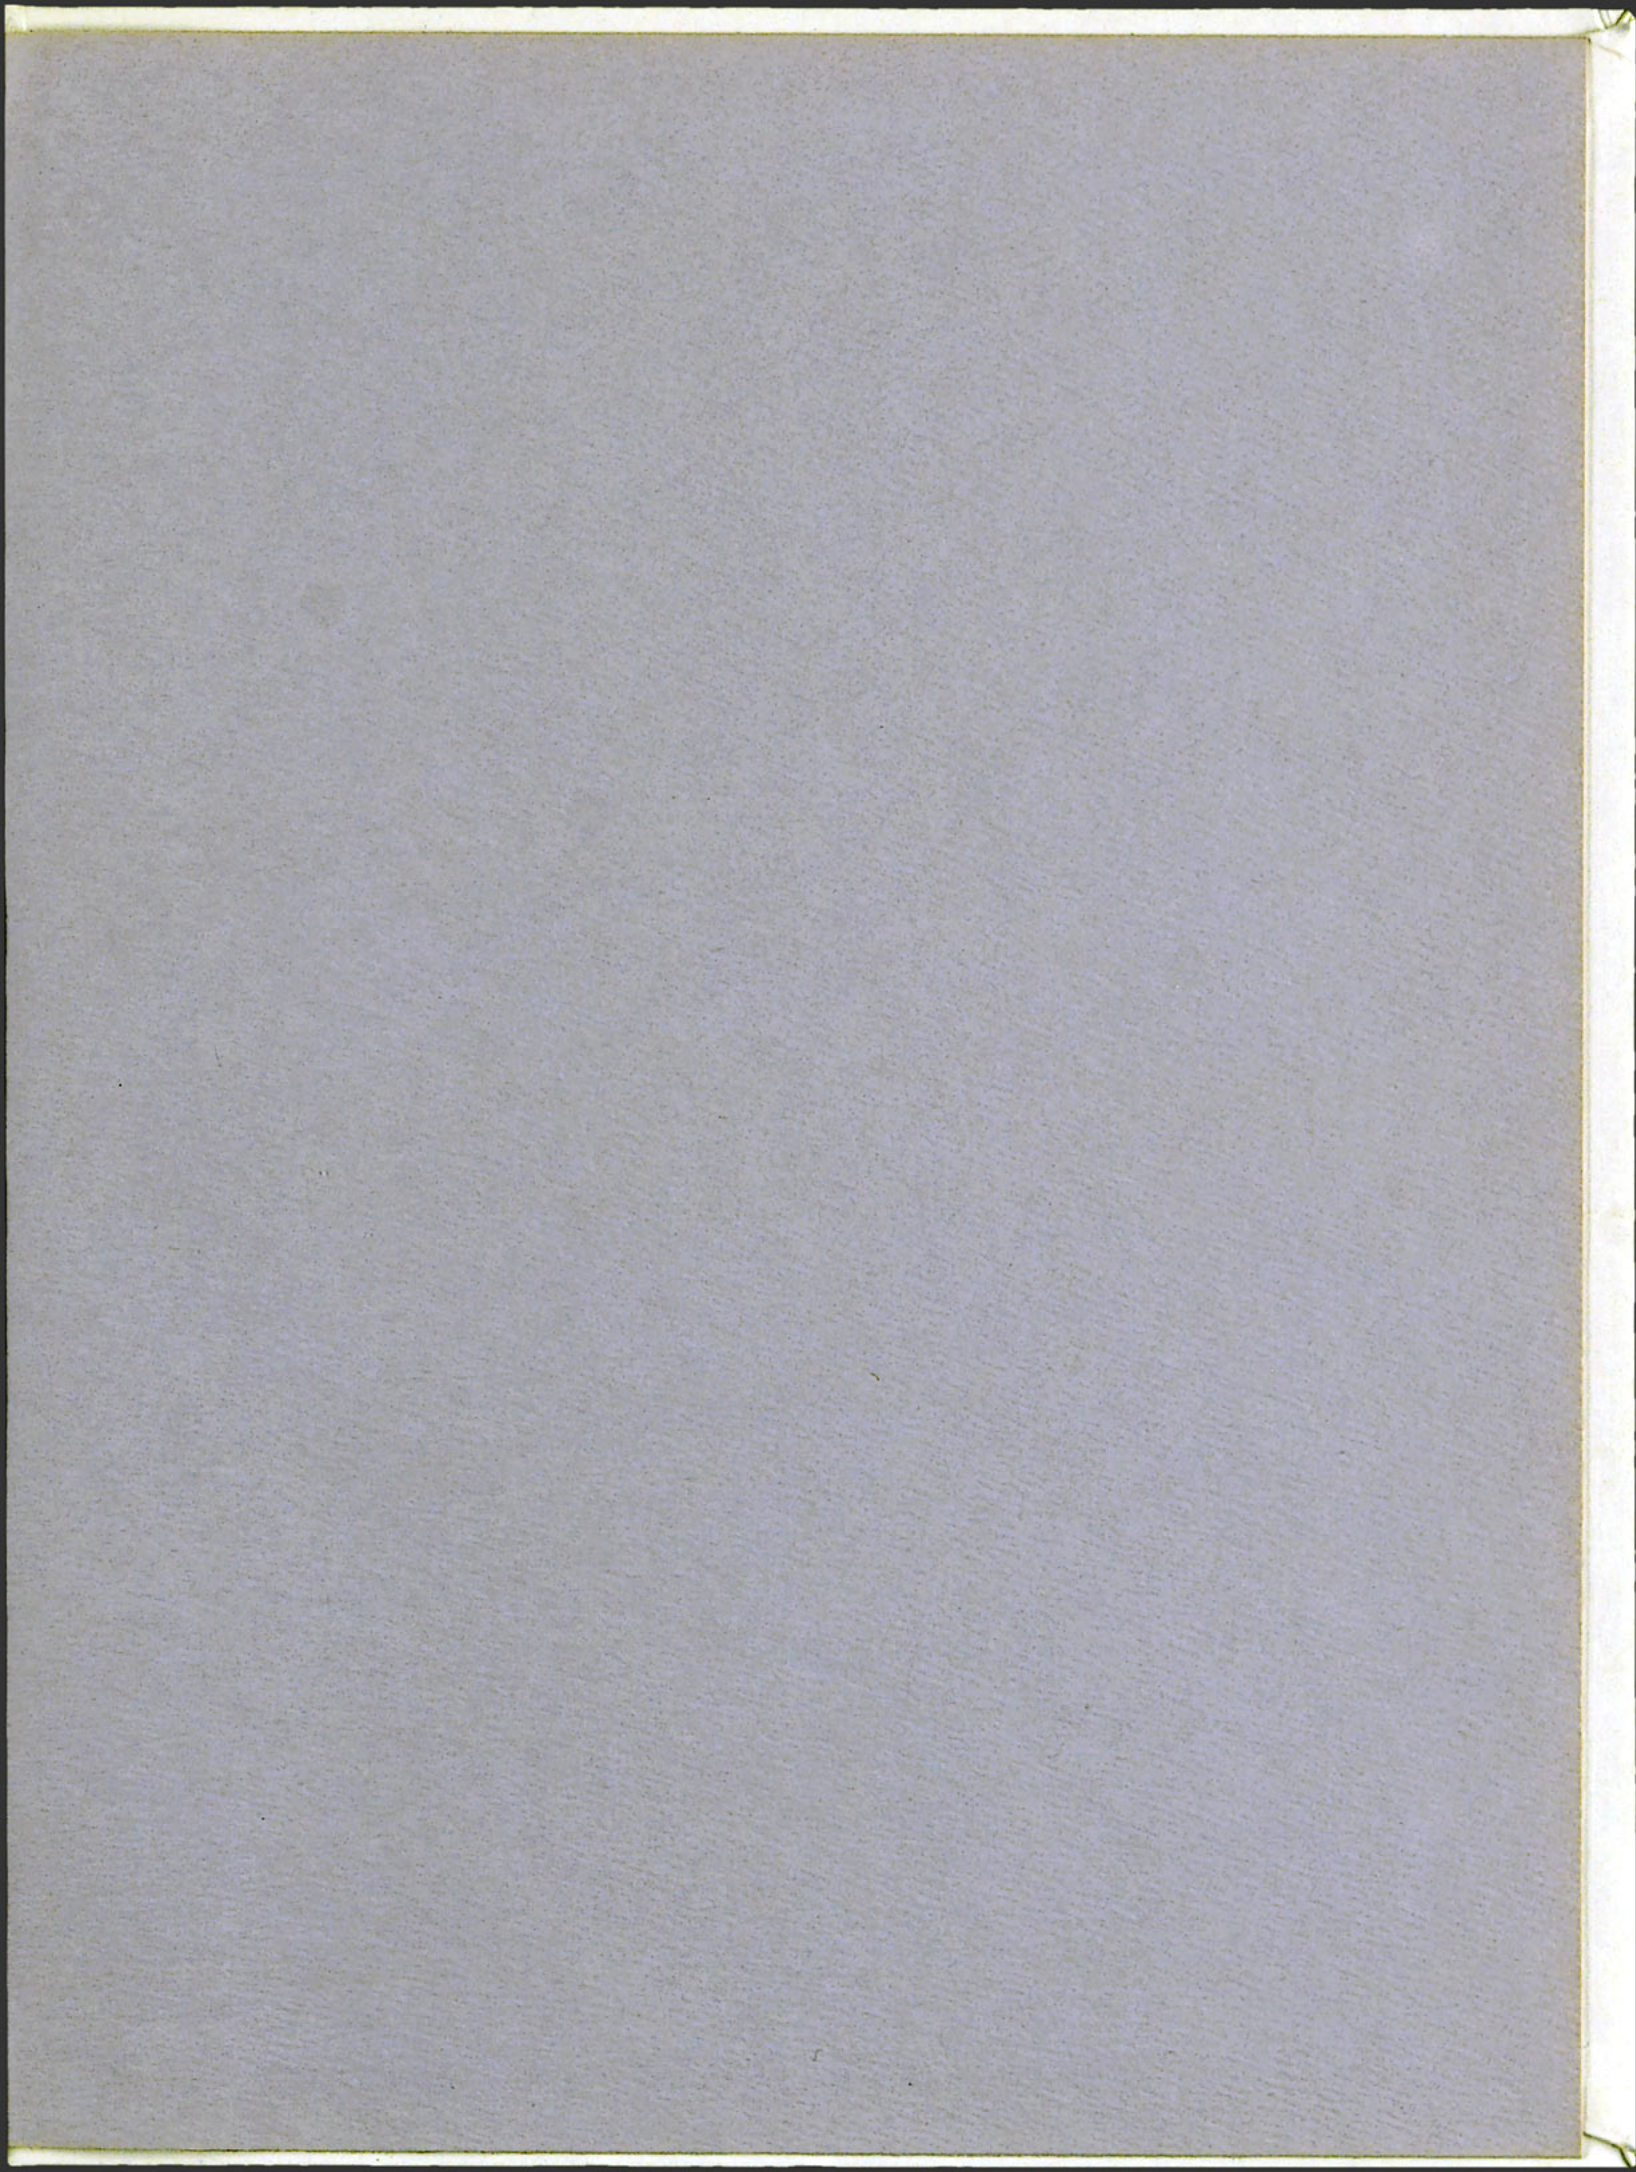

Finally, a very grateful thank you to Mr. Jerry Beilby, our advisor. Thanks for the help and encouraging support — you are very much appreciated. (Your check is in the mail). Thank you all.

In Christ,
 Jim Frantz
 editor

you will know them..."*
